Cambridge Mission to Delhi

In connexion with S.P.G.

Chairman of Committee: Rev. Professor STANTON, D.D.

General Secretary: Miss COLT, C.M.D. Office, Church House, Westminster, S.W.

This Mission was founded in 1877 with the object of carrying on educational and evangelistic work in Delhi and the South Punjab by the agency of a brotherhood of Cambridge men who should be united by the ties of common work on the basis of a common religious life. Some departments of the work are: St. Stephen's College, containing about 170 students; two Hostels for Christian and Non-Christian students in the College; St. Stephen's High School, with over 900 boys; a Christian Boys' Boarding School; classes for Catechists and Schoolmasters; Bázár-preaching; Pastoral and itinerating work in Delhi and the surrounding districts.

The Women's Work, now grown to be an important part of the Mission's activities, includes the carrying on of three hospitals with dispensaries; Queen Mary's School for high-caste girls; a Christian Girls' Boarding School; an Industrial School and a Home for Convalescents, Converts and Orphans, besides teaching in the Zenanas of Delhi and the out-stations.

Nearly £3,000 a year, in addition to grants from S.P.G. and other Societies, has been required hitherto for the maintenance of existing institutions. The transfer of the Capital of India to Delhi will throw largely increased responsibilities upon the Mission, and to meet those claims a considerable increase of income is necessary. New annual Subscribers are therefore urgently needed. Contributions should be sent to the Treasurers at the Office.

COLONIAL AND CONTINENTAL CHURCH SOCIETY.

Patron: HIS MAJESTY THE KING.

Vice-Patrons: THE ARCHBISHOPS OF CANTERBURY, YORK, ARMAGH, DUBLIN, &c.

Chairman of Committee: S. H. GLADSTONE, Esq.

Secretary: THE REV. J. D. MULLINS, M.A.

This Society exists for the purpose of supplying the means of grace to our fellow-countrymen abroad, especially in those parts of the Empire where they are in danger of drifting into irreligion for lack of the Gospel.

Nearly Fifty Colonial Dioceses receive aid from the Society, including those in Canada, Australasia, South Africa, East Africa, the West Indies, and India. Many Colonial Bishops are applying for far more than the Society's Funds can meet.

Owing to the enormous inrush of settlers to North-West Canada, the Society started in 1906 a SPECIAL N.-W. CANADA FUND.

180 Clergy and Lay Evangelists have been sent out, 120 prairie churches built, and more than £85,000 has been expended in the West. £15,000 per annum is required to maintain the agents.

Assistance is also given to ministrations among British Artisans, Sailors, and others in Continental Cities; Services (self-supporting) are organised for visitors at health resorts; and the Society has a few Missions to the Natives within the Empire.

APPEAL.

ARCHBISHOPS' WESTERN CANADA FUND

To the Clergy of England.

WESTERN CANADA'S CLAIM.

'We want the Clergy to see that the Church of England ought to be sending out 50 men a year for the next ten years."

Archbishops' Appeal for Western Canada.

"I should like to see four times the number of first-rate men rise to this opportunity, taking in its magnitude, and feeling how splendid a chance it is to be alive to-day to do it. I tell you if I were a young man now I can hardly conceive that I should not volunteer to go out and take part in that great endeavour."

ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY,
Queen's Hall, Feb., 1912.

The Archbishops' special work in Western Canada is carried out on Brotherhood lines. At Edmonton, Calgary Diocese, under the Rev. W. G. BOYD, Chaplain to His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury; in Southern Alberta, Calgary Diocese, under the Rev. Canon MOWAT; and in the Diocese of Qu'Appelle, the Railway Mission under the Rev. DOUGLAS ELLISON.

Bishop MONTGOMERY, in his "Short Report," S.P.G., 1911, page 8, says :—"The Archbishops' Fund has set a splendid ideal to work of this type in all lands. It is the principal of associated Clergy and workers who are pledged to meet at stated times for recreation in the best sense and for refreshment of spiritual ideals."

"THE RECORD"

THE CHURCH'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER WITH A MODERN MESSAGE.

"The Record" has its own distinctive position as the organ of the great Evangelical School in the Church of England, yet for its broadmindedness and sympathy it is read and valued by other Churchmen as well. Its Reviews of Books are contributed for the most part by specialists; its treatment of Social Questions is broad and sympathetic; its discussion of Church Problems is marked by a wide outlook. We invite Clergy to become regular readers of "The Record." It will quicken their interest in all Church Questions; it will make them keen on Home and Foreign Missions. Most Nonconformists read their denominational newspaper. Clergy of the Church of England ought not to be behind them.

(Dean of Canterbury)

Author of "Principles of the Reformation," etc.

With Portrait. Demy 8vo., 6s. net.

The Times says:—"It must be close on half a century since the greatest editor of the nineteenth century discovered that the Rev. Henry Wace, then curate of St. James, Piccadilly, was the kind of clear thinker and lucid forcible writer who goes to the making of public opinion from day to day. There is in fact hardly any great interest now occupying men's minds as to which the Dean cannot say 'I was deep in that matter years and years ago.' The chief interest of the volume is the part it plays in Dr. Wace's career, and in the recent records of that ecclesiastical party in which by force of character and by dominance of intellect he holds the foremost place. It is Dr. Wace's invincible courage rather than an agreement with all his conclusions that makes us hope for the wide circulation of the volume before us."

The Spectator says: "There is hardly a dull page in this book. A true effort has been made to face the facts. It is frank almost to a fault."

The Church Times says: "'Facing the Facts' is the kind of book that is always being written, and which always needs to be written, and is certainly a book that all Churchmen ought carefully to read . . . . the need of such books as this never ceases, and those who give time and thought to their production perform a social service of much utility."

The Guardian says: "One of the most remarkable analyses that we have seen, and invites a serious study by the union of several noticeable gifts."

S. P. G.

AND ITS

World-wide Work.

The Society pleads for 50 dioceses beyond the Seas.

Its ability to help is conditional upon the support of the Church at home.

The Society's immediate Aim is –to strengthen our existing Missions balance the work in them, making the men's and the women's work advance in equal proportions—to house our work and our workers adequately.

To do this, contributions to the GENERAL FUND should be at once raised to at least £125,000 per annum.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, referring to the enormous increase of the work for the support of which the S.P.G. is mainly responsible, said :—

> "How many of you have been induced to double, or treble, or quadruple your ordinary gift to the great organization whose responsibilities are multiplying so fast that they are four times what they were"

Contributions may be paid through Local Associations of the S.P.G., or sent direct to the S.P.G. House, 15 Tufton Street, Westminster, S.W.

Cheques, Postal Orders, etc., sent to the S.P.G House should be made payable to the "Treasurers of the S.P.G." or bearer, and crossed "Messrs. Drummond."

THE

Additional Bishoprics Committee

THE GREAT NEED of the present day is the REFORMATION of our DIOCESAN SYSTEM by the division of our unwieldy dioceses.

It demands instruction, preparation, and organisation.

It costs money, and somebody must pay for it; everybody seems to think that somebody else is paying for it.

The Additional Bishoprics Committee urgently appeal for support if the growing work is to be effective.

Subscriptions and Donations may be sent to the Treasurers of the Additional Bishoprics Committee, 14 Great Smith Street, Westminster, S.W.

Papers on the question may be had from the Organising Secretary, Rev. E. H. Firth, Houghton Rectory, Stockbridge, Hants. The Organising Secretary is prepared to speak or to preach on behalf of the Fund.

WELSH DISESTABLISHMENT.

Although this grave National Question was NOT BEFORE the ELECTORS at the two General Elections in 1910 or in 1906, Mr. Asquith has pledged the Government to pass a Bill to DISESTABLISH and DISENDOW THE CHURCH IN WALES.

Yet in Wales the Church is the LARGEST and most progressive OF ALL THE RELIGIOUS DENOMINATIONS, and Welsh NONCONFORMISTS number LESS THAN HALF the population.

The endowments of the Church in Wales, as in England, have been the FREE GIFTS OF CHURCHPEOPLE, and in many country parishes the Church Clergyman is the ONLY RESIDENT MINISTER OF RELIGION.

It is important that THESE FACTS SHOULD BE WIDELY KNOWN, and the CENTRAL CHURCH COMMITTEE appeal for LIBERAL ASSISTANCE so that the JUST CLAIMS of the Church in Wales should be presented to THE INTELLIGENCE AND CONSCIENCE OF THE ELECTORS.

Cheques and P.O.O. (crossed Hoare and Co). should be sent to the Secretary, or to the Bankers, Messrs. Hoare, 37 Fleet Street, E.C.

T. MARTIN TILBY, Secretary.

Offices: Central Church Defence Committee, Church House, Westminster, S.W.

ST. ANDREW'S WATERSIDE [FOUNDED 1864.] CHURCH MISSION. [FOUNDED 1864.]

A MISSION FOR SAILORS, FISHERMEN, AND EMIGRANTS AT HOME AND ABROAD.

Patron—HIS GRACE THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY.
Vice-Patrons—HIS GRACE THE ARCHBISHOP OF YORK and Sixty-Seven Bishops.

WE HELP THE CHURCH'S WORK FOR SAILORS IN MANY PORTS AT HOME AND ABROAD.

Object—To assist the Church of England in her endeavours to advance the spiritual welfare of Sailors, Fishermen, and Emigrants, on board ship or ashore, both at Home and Abroad.

— SUBSCRIPTIONS, DONATIONS AND — OFFERTORIES ARE URGENTLY NEEDED.

Illustrated papers, magazines, books, and clothing are also earnestly asked for. The Organizing Secretary (Rev. A. H. Haigh) will be glad of the opportunity either to preach Sermons, to address Drawing-Room and Garden Meetings, or to give a lecture with the aid of the lantern illustrating the work of the Mission.

All Cheques and Postal Orders should be made payable to "P. J. GEDYE, Secretary, St. Andrew's Waterside Church Mission, 65 Fenchurch Street, London, E.C.," and crossed "London County & Westminster Bank."

QUEEN VICTORIA CLERGY FUND

Incorporated by Royal Charter, 1897.

Church House, Dean's Yard, Westminster S.W.

Patroness: HER MAJESTY QUEEN ALEXANDRA.
Chairman of Council: LORD ASHCOMBE.

THE object of this Fund is to impress upon the laity the duty of supporting the clergy, and to assist in providing an adequate income for the clergy of the Church of England.

The Central Fund and the affiliated Diocesan Organisations together form one large scheme, so that the effort is made by the Church as a whole in both Provinces.

Block Grants from the Central Fund are made to the affiliated Diocesan Organisations and administered by them in accordance with the general principles of the Fund.

The Fund is intended to aid (1) in raising those incomes of Benefices which are normally very small; (2) in making up those incomes of Benefices which have suffered reduction owing to agricultural depression; and (3) in raising those incomes of Benefices which are nominally of substantial value, but which, owing to the large population and consequent claims on the Incumbents, demand a much larger income.

It should be strongly emphasised that this Fund is intended to be a Permanent Fund; and therefore Annual Subscriptions are most earnestly asked for. Donations, Church Collections and Legacies will also be welcomed.

Contributions and promises of Annual Subscriptions to the Central Fund should be sent to the Secretary, SYDNEY W. FLAMANK, Esq. (Secretary to the Church House), Dean's Yard, Westminster Abbey, London, S.W.

Cheques and Orders to be crossed: "London Joint Stock Bank, Westminster Branch."

Contributions intended for Diocesan Organisations should be sent to the Secretaries of these Funds.

Curates' Augmentation Fund.

The only Society in the Church of England for the purpose of helping Assistant Curates.

Presidents—HIS GRACE THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY.
HIS GRACE THE ARCHBISHOP OF YORK.
Treasurer—Rev. T. A. SEDGWICK.

This Society augments the Stipends of Curates who have been more than 15 years in Holy Orders, and are still in full active work.

Of the 7,000 Curates very many have been ordained more than 15 years, and this number is annually increasing.

It is the only Society in England that directly increases the Stipends of Curates of long standing. The "Queen Victoria Clergy Fund" does not help the unbeneficed Clergy.

The Church is multiplying Curates three times as rapidly as she is multiplying Benefices.

Upwards of £9,000 was voted last year in Grants.

The average Stipend of those receiving grants does not exceed £3 a week.

CHURCH COLLECTIONS, SUBSCRIPTIONS & DONATIONS THANKFULLY RECEIVED.

Cheques, P.O.O., and Postal Orders, crossed "COUTTS & Co.," should be sent to OFFICE: 2 DEAN'S YARD, WESTMINSTER, S.W.

REV. A. G. B. ATKINSON, Secretary.

PAROCHIAL MISSION WOMEN FUND.

President—THE DOWAGER LADY MONTAGU OF BEAULIEU.
Vice-President—THE LADY GEORGE HAMILTON.
Treasurer—THE EARL WALDEGRAVE.

The object of this Fund is the employment, under the Clergy, of poor women as Mission Workers among the poor.

THESE Mission Women win their influence with the people by tactful, neighbourly help and sympathy in times of trouble or difficulty; they give no alms, but go about among the poorest and most degraded in the simple spirit of Christian love, inspiring them with fresh heart and hope, and trying to raise them to a higher level by bringing the power of Christianity to bear upon their lives.

As an introduction to their more directly spiritual work, they visit from house to house collecting the pence of the poor, which, thus saved from waste or misuse, are returned to them in clothing and other necessaries. The savings thus collected by these Mission Women in 1911 amounted to £7,181. And all this without any bonus. Applications for Mission Women are constantly being refused for lack of funds.

Help is Urgently Needed.—WILL YOU HELP,

NOTE

AGAIN we have the very pleasant duty of offering our sincere thanks to the Clergy for their kind co-operation in the preparation of this volume. Without such assistance THE CHURCH DIRECTORY AND ALMANACK could not be produced with anything like the same measure of fulness and accuracy; and the ready way in which Clergy have responded to our application for particulars demands our most cordial and grateful acknowledgment.

We have also to express our warm appreciation of the generous good feeling shown by Clergy in regard to the change in the price of the book. The number of orders received in advance is greatly in excess of last year, and this is, in itself, a striking testimony to the increasing favour with which the book is regarded by Clergy, seeing that it now costs 2*s*. 6*d*. net. instead of 2*s*. net. as formerly.

Clergy can do much to forward the interests of the book—which in a sense are their interests as well—by bringing the CHURCH DIRECTORY AND ALMANACK to the notice of their friends, lay as well as clerical. It is important that subscribers should renew their orders year by year, because in twelve months the number of changes are so many that a volume, published, let us say, in January 1912, becomes out of date in January 1913. A good Directory is not a luxury but a necessity.

The compilation of the present volume follows the lines which have been so widely approved in the past. We venture to call special attention to the principal contents in Part I. Two questions of overwhelming importance are before the Church at the present time—Welsh Disestablishment and the Report of the Divorce Commission—and accordingly we have devoted much of our space to them. The Notes affecting Disestablishment will, we trust, be found most useful to the Clergy in their winter campaign against what the Bishop of St. David's calls "the mean little Bill," and the careful Summary of the Minority Report of the Divorce Commission will enable them to refute whenever need be the monstrous proposals of the Majority Report for extending the grounds of divorce.

No effort has been spared to make the work accurate and complete. Subscribers who detect errors will confer a real kindness upon us if they will call our attention to them at once. Any suggestions for improving the book will be gratefully received.

The companion volumes, THE CHURCH PULPIT YEAR BOOK and THE FULL DESK CALENDAR, are published as usual, the former at 2*s*. net. and the latter at 1*s*. net., and Clergy will find them of immense help—in the one case, in their work of pulpit preparation, and in the other in the more efficient conduct of Divine Service.

They are so varied as to cover almost every requirement of Clerical life, and, should occasion arise for communicating with the Advertisers, it would be a very great favour if mention were made of this publication.

Non-Provided Schools: Managers' Rights.

On Nov. 18, 1912, the House of Lords reversed the judgment of the Court of Appeal, and restored an order of Mr. Justice Hamilton in an action brought by the managers of the St. Patrick's Roman Catholic School at Consett, Durham, claiming a declaration that they, and not the Durham County Council, had the right to appoint a caretaker and cleaner for the non-provided school. The County Council claimed that as they had to pay the wages of these officials, it followed that they had the right to select or dismiss them. This had been the view of the majority of the Court of Appeal, but Mr. Justice Hamilton had held otherwise. In announcing the decision of their lordships, the Lord Chancellor pointed out that, by the Education Act of 1870, the voluntary schools were to have no aid from the rates, but from a Parliamentary grant, provided that they complied with certain sections of the Act as to earning the grant. The managers of such schools were left to control and manage them as distinguished from maintaining and keeping them efficient. By Section 24 of the Act of 1902 these expressions were to have the same meaning as in the Education Acts from 1870 to 1900. The new principle which the Act of 1902 introduced was that of entitling non-provided schools to rate aid from the local education authorities. The managers of such schools were an independent and already existing body, and all that was given by the Act of 1902 to the local education authority was a defined statutory power of interference with them. Although the managers could call on the local education authority to maintain the school, and to keep it efficient, the obligation of the authority carried with it no full power of management; the residuary powers of management were to remain with the managers. He thought that those powers continued to include that of general management, and as part of this the responsibility for looking after the school and appointing the necessary caretakers and cleaners. Lords Atkinson, Mersey, and Shaw concurred.

In Defence of the Church.

POINTS TO BE NOTED.

Disestablishment Effects in Ireland. The Archbishop of Armagh, speaking in London on April 30, 1912, said that Disestablishment in Ireland had led since 1869 to a marked decrease in the number of clergymen and the closing of many churches in the south and west of Ireland. Before Disestablishment the clergy of the Church of Ireland numbered about 2,050. Now there were 1,460. As regards Church adherents, there had been an increase in Belfast and the larger towns in Ulster, but a large and growing decrease in practically all rural districts, where Roman Catholics preponderated. This general decline throughout rural Ireland he attributed largely to the inability of the Church since Disestablishment to provide sufficient resident clergy. Parishes in the south and west had had to be grouped together—for example, in one case, in Meath, eleven parishes were joined—and the few clergy had to make long journeys week after week to attend to the spiritual needs of the people. Since Disestablishment the Order of St. Patrick had become purely secular. In fact, there was no recognition of religion in any official Act of the Government in Dublin. He emphatically repudiated the suggestion that Disendowment had done good in Ireland. He also laid stress on the fact that the endowments left to the Church in Ireland when it was disendowed were actually more than the Church in Wales now possessed before disendowment.

Church and Dissent Statistics.—The Rev. J. Morgan Gibbon contrasts the 193,081 communicants of the Church with the 550,280 "full members" of the Nonconformist bodies in Wales, as though "member" and "communicant" were convertible terms. But the Bishop of St. Asaph points out "'member' practically exhausts the adults in a Nonconformist denomination, whereas in the Church of England this would be, as everyone knows, wholly inaccurate as a definition of 'communicant.'" The Bishop mentions another means of computation, which is much more satisfactory. It is common ground that the four leading Nonconformist bodies in Wales claim, all told, only 1,009,312 out of a population of 2,442,340, or less than half. The Bishop does not attempt to classify the 1,443,028 who are not Nonconformists, but he says that, judging from his own experience, even the most indifferent of them if they sought the ministrations of a minister of religion, would seek those of the clergyman of the parish. "Therefore," he adds, "directly or indirectly, I believe myself the Church in Wales practically cares for a majority of its population."

Dr. Döllinger's View.—Twenty-six years ago Dr. Liddon communicated to the Press the opinion entertained on the subject by the great Dr. Döllinger, one of the earnest and most capable of the students of contemporary history. "For my part," said Dr. Döllinger, "I think that any such measure should be resisted. It would be a blow to Christianity, not only in England, but throughout Europe." . . . Dr. Döllinger went on to say that if such a measure were adopted by the Legislature of a country with a history like that of England there could be no mistake as to its significance. It would be well understood alike by the friends and foes of Christianity—in Germany, in France, throughout the civilised world.

Tithe Not a Tax.—"A tax in its proper sense is confined to payments made under the authority of Parliament for National purposes, and forming part of the State finances. 'Parliamentary taxes given to the Crown,' is the old way of describing them; the same idea is now expressed by substituting nation for the Crown. Tithes or their modern equivalent form no part of the National Finances. Lord Selborne (in his work on the Defence of the Church, pp. 126-175) was quite correct when he said, 'The tithe was never at any time a public fund or revenue.' Whatever resemblances there may be between tithes and taxes, this difference distinguishes them completely, and involves consequences of the greatest importance. If a tax is repealed no one is deprived of property which he previously enjoyed. The loss may be a national loss, but as a taxpayer he gains: he is relieved from a burden. But tithes are property belonging not to the State, but to rectors and vicars: and to abolish tithes or to divert them from their present owners is neither more nor less than robbing them by Act of Parliament. If, for State purposes, Parliament resolves to do this, Parliament ought in all fairness to compensate the tithe owners, be they lay or clerical, for the losses they sustain. This, however, so far as I know, is not contemplated.—Lord Lindley.

One and Indivisible.—The late Sir William Harcourt, speaking in the House of Commons on March 9, 1886, said:—"Therefore, however, much truth there may be in my hon. friend's (Mr. Stuart Rendel's) view, this I think he will admit—that the Church of England in Wales is so much an integral part of the Established Church of England that it is not merely difficult, but I will say impossible, to raise the question as a separate one, and that you cannot deal with the one question—I do not mean by resolution, but practically in legislation—without involving the other. I think that this is a proposition which will commend itself to every man's mind."—Hansard, vol. ccciii., col. 351.

The Fate of Disestablishers.—In the Life of the late Lord Wolverhampton (better known as Sir H. H. Fowler) the following passage appears:—"I told Harcourt when he introduced his Welsh Bill that he did not seem to realise what he was doing. 'You have no idea of the hold which the Church has upon the English people. If you attack it you will lose your seat, and if you persist in it our party will be swept out of office.' He lost his seat, and no one knows how much that Bill has had to do with our being out of office all these years."

Decline of Nonconformity.—In The Rise and Decline of Welsh Nonconformity, published by Sir Isaac Pitman and Sons, Ltd., "Viator Cambrensis" calls attention to a variety of facts which are all too little known. He dates the origin of Nonconformity from the seventeenth century; he admits that it has met with much success—the grounds of which he examines—but he comes to the conclusion that whatever may be one's opinions of the controversy between Church and Nonconformity, it is becoming increasingly evident that Nonconformity is, for various reasons, receding more and more as a spiritual and creative force. On the other hand, the Church, which has its roots in the distant past, is growing rapidly in power and influence. "Judged by whatever standard," says the writer, "whether by the number of confirmations, churches built, baptisms, marriages, the larger number of clergy ordained, contributions towards Church work, and educational objects, the Church is doing great work. It is increasing, widening, and broadening year by year."

A Mean and Wanton Proposal.—The cutting up of the province of Canterbury is a large and grave proposal, and Wales, with a population less than that of the single diocese of Manchester, is making a preposterous claim when she demands that a section, even if it be a majority of her people, are to be allowed to prejudge this tremendous question of disestablishment and disendowment. But greater than any political or national considerations are the principles of justice and honesty. The Church in Wales is a poor Church. For 1,600 clergy she has, in round numbers, a total endowment of £270,000 a year. Out of this sum the Government propose to take away £178,000 a year. Those endowments are not being misused, or used for purposes for which they were not given, nor are they too large for the work to be done. Assuredly these are the only reasons upon which any scheme of disendowment could hope to be justified, but not one of these reasons can be truthfully urged for Welsh disendowment, and there is something mean and wanton in the proposal to secularise these endowments and use them for purposes for which there is already superabundant provision. Wales is a small country, and last year something like two millions were spent upon intermediate and elementary education in Wales, and to despoil the poor Welsh Church in order to swell this enormous expenditure is neither necessary nor generous nor just nor honest."—The Bishop of St. Asaph at the Middlesbrough Church Congress.

Liberals and Disestablishment.

The proposals of the Government for the Disestablishment and Disendowment of the Church in Wales are causing great uneasiness to many Liberals, and some of them are making their protests heard. We quote a few typical instances:—

Alderman W. J. Smith, who has long been a recognised leader of the Liberal party in the Leigh Division of Lancashire, wrote in January last: "I cannot support by my presence on the platform to-morrow the policy of Disestablishment and Disendowment of the Welsh Church, because I am strongly opposed to it. Besides being a life-long Liberal, I am also a life-long Churchman, and the whole idea of taking money which is now being used for the service of God and devoting it to secular purposes appears to me an act of desecration, and is abhorrent to me. Like scores of thousands of Liberal Churchmen, I shall feel I have been 'had' if no opportunity is given the country to declare itself on this question."

Mr. H. B. Money-Coutts, who was Liberal candidate for East Hampshire in 1906, in seceding from the Liberal party, gave among the reasons for this step his "dislike for disestablishing an ancient Church on insufficient grounds in order to gratify the spite of a few Welsh Nonconformists."

Liberal Churchmen's Protest League.—A Memorial to the Prime Minister from this body, and signed by the Bishop of Birmingham, Bishop Welldon, the Deans of Hereford and Lincoln, Canons Danks, Horsley, R. St. J. Parry, Rashdall, Stanton, and Wakeford, and many others, stated: "Whatever the views of any of us on Disestablishment under just conditions may be (and Churchmen who supported the Government are not all agreed on this point), we are, one and all, opposed to secularisation of religious endowments, where the trust involved is being faithfully fulfilled, and where such endowments are really not even now adequate to the work. . . . We can assure you that we possess ample evidence that there is behind us in this matter a strong force of Churchmen, who have hitherto supported you, often at no small cost to themselves." The joint Hon. Secretaries of the Liberal Churchmen's Protest League are the Revs. C. Baumgarten, Rector of St. George's, Bloomsbury, and J. A. Douglas, Vicar of St. Luke's, Camberwell.

Alderman John Owen, one of the leading public men in North Wales, indulged in some plain speaking at a Calvinistic Methodist meeting, held at Colwyn Bay. According to the report in the North Wales Weekly News, he said:—"It was natural that the Church should resist the proposal to take away that financial assistance. What would be the result of taking away the tithes which amounted to about £135,000 per annum? What would be the effect upon religion in Wales of diverting that money to educational and social purposes? A large proportion of the £135,000 would be devoted to higher education in Wales, and he must admit that he felt some anxiety for the future of his country in that connection. There appeared to be a tendency in the educational world to drift away from religion, to place at the head of educational movements men who attached little importance to the things of religion. He believed that it was true that in Wales the affairs of higher education were to a great extent passing into the hands of non-religious people. It was therefore a duty to consider whether the diversion of the proceeds of the tithes to that purpose might be harmful to the religious interests of Wales."

Mr. Henry Radcliffe, an influential Radical and Nonconformist, caused a great sensation in South Wales by his speech at the opening of a bazaar in the Cathedral Road Presbyterian schoolroom in Cardiff. He said: "The time has come when the duty lies at our door of asking the question—is there any really religious Christian person who will be prepared to transfer the sum of £135,000 from the purposes of religion to worldly things—secular things, if you like—but I prefer the word 'worldly.' It is my experience that there is too little money being applied for religious work. I would much prefer to see a Bill promoted in Parliament to give £135,000 per annum to every Nonconformist body in Wales. I would vote for it with both hands. By to-day, as some of you may know, I am a considerable owner of land in Glamorgan, and, as a landlord, I have to subscribe tithes to the Church. You will believe me when I say that I would much prefer to see these tithes doubled or trebled than I would see them taken away from the religious objects to which they are now applied and used for worldly purposes. . . . I call it a mean little Bill for a Government to bring forward, and for this reason—the Government calls up over £180,000,000 per annum for worldly purposes, and now they are trying to divert what is comparatively a paltry sum of £135,000 per annum from religion."

Nonconformity and the Welsh Church Bill.

Not all Nonconformists are favourable to Disestablishment. Many of them have indeed uttered strong protests against the Welsh Church Bill. We append a few opinions:—

Sir Alfred Pease.—"As a Nonconformist I can discover no grievance of any sort under which I or any other Nonconformist suffers by the natural recognition of religion and Christianity. As for the endowments, all Nonconformists, when they voluntarily abandoned communion with the Church of England, undoubtedly abandoned all claim to these endowments, and can prefer no honest claim to them. . . . I fear that little beyond political animus and jealousy and a large amount of covetousness actuates those who have urged forward this measure. I doubt if a non-party vote in Wales alone would support the proposals."—In a letter to the Rector of Guisborough, May 3, 1912.

The Rev. S. T. Bosward, Wesleyan Minister of Nelson.—"I have lived in Wales and have seen the work of the Church there. I don't know any reason for disestablishment. My opposition is not so much to the Church Disestablishment as to Disendowment. The Church in Wales has been going on for a good many years, and the opposition to the Church is not actuated by the finest motives. I think it is prompted largely by jealousy on the part of some of the other Churches."—Interview, "Manchester Evening Chronicle," March 21, 1912.

Mr. A. Stigant, in a letter to the Chatham News of September 28, 1912, protests "as a life-long Nonconformist" against the local attempt to entangle the Nonconformists of Chatham "in this nefarious attempt to rob a sister Protestant Church of its means of usefulness amongst the poor of Wales." "It is admitted," he adds, "that the endowments of the Church of Wales have been very usefully employed in ministering to the temporal and spiritual necessities of the poor, and it is little less than a scandal for Nonconformity to use its political influence in aiding this outrageous wrong on a sister Protestant Church."

The Rev. J. Fovargue Bradley (Congregationalist Minister), author of The Case Against Welsh Disendowment, has recently issued another volume under the title of Nonconformists and the Welsh Church Bill. In the new work Mr. Bradley criticises with great force the speeches of Mr. McKenna, Mr. Lloyd George, and others during the debates on the first and second reading of the Bill. His former pamphlet, The Case Against Welsh Disendowment, exercised much influence in turning public opinion in England against the measure, and this new work will make the passing of this mean Bill into law an exceedingly difficult task. His denunciation of the Welsh Church Bill as a measure of Disestablishment and Dismemberment as well as of Disendowment cannot but carry conviction into the minds of a large number of Nonconformists. The book deals faithfully with the narrow sectarianism of what is called Welsh Nationalism. The supporters of the Bill never attempted to answer Mr. Bradley's Case against Welsh Disendowment, but the Welsh Party cannot afford to indulge in a conspiracy of silence against this new work, which is even a more damaging exposure of the injustice, the folly, and the meanness of their attempt to wreck the work of the Church in Wales.—National Church.

Dr. Blyth.—"Stripped of all rhetorical embellishments, the proposition becomes simple enough—that the power of Parliament should be utilised to take the property of A and give it to B—that the property of the Welsh Church should be taken from it and appropriated to other and different purposes altogether. This is not a political question, but a religious question: a matter of principle and conscience, and I sincerely hope that Nonconformists as a body will not be found supporting such an unjust proposition. I look at this question as a plain man. The endowments at present possessed by the Church of England in Wales are to all intents and purposes, according to common phraseology and the ordinary use of language, the property of the Church, and have been so for the past 300 years. The technical argument is put forward in support of the demand for Disendowment that the funds proposed to be taken away were not originally given to the Church at all, as at present established. However that may be, such an argument can have no weight when it is fully realised that the Church of England in Wales—the Welsh Church I suppose I ought to say—has been in possession of the property, and that possession acquiesced in and recognised, for centuries. The Welsh Church can therefore rightly base its title on prescription, a law of property which prevails and is recognised in every civilised country."—At the Norfolk Baptist Association Meeting, June 13, 1912.

Dividing the Spoil.

The analysis of the endowments of the Church in Wales, and a statement of the purposes to which they would be devoted under the Government Bill, have been published in a Parliamentary Return. The total income of (1) Parochial Benefices and (2) Bishops' Cathedral Corporations, etc., is returned as £260,037. Of this total sum the Church will retain £87,136. There will be alienated from the Church and transferred to County or Borough Councils and the Univ. of Wales: (a) Ancient endowments, £116,287; (b) grants from Welsh sources of Royal Fund of Q.A.B., £9,302; grants from Parliamentary Grants Fund of Q.A.B., £5,809; (d) appropriations of tithe and land by Ecclesiastical Commissioners from ancient estates, £14,803; (e) Welsh Estates of Ecclesiastical Commissioners, £26,700; total, £172,901.

Population and Communicants.

DIOCESAN PERCENTAGES.

The following table is compiled by the Record from the statistics given in the 1912 issue of the Official Year-Book of the Church of England. The total population of England and Wales is given at 32,678,213, these being the figures of the 1901 census. The Easter Communicants, England and Wales, numbered 2,342,153. It will thus be seen that—

The Average Percentage of Communicants to the Population was practically... ... ... 7·2.

The returns from the various dioceses work out as follows:—

THE CASE OF WALES.

The total population of the four Welsh Dioceses is 2,023,974, and the total number of Easter Communicants 152,654. Thus the average percentage of Communicants to population for Wales is rather more than 7·5, whilst the average for the whole of England and Wales is 7·2. For England alone (without Wales) the average is slightly below 7·2.

The Census of India.

To-day we preach in India to those whose religious beliefs are shattered or are being shattered by our Western education, whose social system is being riven by our life and commerce, whose industrial life is being revolutionised by our machinery and methods, and whose intellectual life is being forced into new categories, and along strange paths. The last census showed that after deducting Christians of European origin, and then again deducting the natural increase by birth-rate, there was still left an increase of 720,000 on the figures of the previous census, or 72,000 a year. That is, through baptisms the Christian Church has increased during the last ten years in India every fortnight by about the numbers of Pentecost, or nearly 3,000. But more remarkable than that is the fact that all Hinduism, with its 240,000,000, all Mohammedanism, with its 60,000,000, and all Buddhism, with its 15,000,000, are seeking to defend their faiths, not from the inroads of each other, but from the 3,500,000 Christians, that almost invisible handful amongst the millions of India.—Rev. A. G. Fraser at Middlesbrough Church Congress.

The World Missionary Conference.

CONTINUATION COMMITTEE: PRINCIPLES DEFINED.

The Continuation Committee appointed by the Edinburgh Missionary Conference of 1910 held a meeting in September at Lake Mohonk, New York, U.S.A., and the Bishop of Winchester was amongst the English delegates who crossed the Atlantic to attend it. The official report of the proceedings contains a prefatory letter, or preamble, drafted carefully by the Committee itself, which sets forth the principles governing the work of this body as follows:—

"The Continuation Committee of the World Missionary Conference, 1910, was called into being in order to carry on the work then commenced in the spirit of that Conference. As we understand that spirit, it is one of fellowship in the service of our common Lord and Master, Jesus Christ.

"The whole need of the world, newly surveyed in all its breadth and variety, was laid before the Edinburgh Conference, and with this came a fuller recognition of the task of the Church. In face of that task the divisions which mar the unity of that Church and separate its members were seen in their true character as causes of weakness. Every discussion at the Conference impressed upon us the fact that to promote the spirit of true unity and to witness the presence of Jesus Christ with His Church should be the highest aim of His servants. We believe that the Conference was itself a witness to a large and growing measure of the spirit of unity. It is our earnest desire that the Continuation Committee should feel that its first object is to labour for the promotion of that spirit. The Conference recognised frankly the differences between Christians, but abstained from all attempt to discuss them, whilst it respected all convictions. But it claimed recognition of the truth that all were engaged in one task for one Lord, and it brought them together in His presence to think and speak and pray about that task. To those who took part in it no doubt was possible that God's blessing rested on the Conference. We, members of the Continuation Committee, desire to go forward with our faces set towards the unity which is God's will and for which all Christians pray, however distant or even impossible of attainment it may seem.

"We neither ignore nor undervalue our differences. We know that we can do our several parts best by being true to our own full convictions, but we rejoice in the belief that we are actuated by the same dominating desire for the coming of Christ's Kingdom. We would encourage each other in the endeavour to hasten its coming. Acting thus, we believe that we shall come into a deeper knowledge of the purpose of God and a fuller apprehension of the resources that are available for the Church in Him.

"Especially is it our hope that we may help more efficiently to carry forward the work in all its departments and in every land by directing attention to its fundamental problems, by the thorough study of certain of its aspects, by serving as a bond between those who are engaged in the same work, and by raising in this way the level of all our thoughts in regard to the supreme task which is laid upon the whole Church of Christ.

"However unworthy we may be to discharge these high tasks, we have at any rate the advantage on our Committee of an unusually wide representation of different points of view, a fact which must help to save us from a narrow and one-sided outlook.

"Relying solely upon the help of that Holy Spirit whom we recognise as present and active in every section of the Church Universal, we are determined, so far as in us lies, to seek to understand and appreciate one another's points of view, and to present sympathetically that truth which we believe God has entrusted to each.

"We therefore earnestly desire the co-operation of all who love the Lord Jesus in sincerity and truth, that 'speaking truth in love, we may grow up in all things into Him, which is the Head, even Christ.'"

Interesting Statistics.—The Westminster Gazette, in a statistical review of the respective position of the Church and Nonconformity in England and Wales, says:—"The numbers of communicants, Sunday scholars, and teachers in the Anglican Church again show an increase. But unfortunately a further shrinkage is observable in the statistics of the Free Churches. . . . Nonconformity is failing to keep up its numbers of pledged adherents, who, by profession of faith, are admitted to the privileges and responsibilities of Church life."

The Divorce Commission Reports.

The Royal Commission on Divorce and Matrimonial Causes, appointed in November 1909, issued its Report, or rather Reports, in November 1912. The matters dealt with in these Reports are of such commanding importance to the social and religious life of the country that clergy will be glad to have by them for ready reference some of the main proposals.

Terms of Reference.—The Commissioners "were appointed to inquire into the present state of the law of England and the administration thereof in divorce and matrimonial causes and applications for separation orders, especially with regard to the position of the poorer classes in relation thereto, and the subject of the publication of reports of such causes and applications; and to report whether any and what amendments should be made in such law, or the administration thereof or with regard to the publication of such reports." The Commission was appointed on November 8, 1909. The Commissioners held seventy-one sittings and examined 246 witnesses. Among the witnesses were Judges of the High Court, County Court Judges, magistrates, barristers, solicitors, police-court missionaries and rescue workers, "Poor man's lawyer" representatives, Scottish, Irish, Colonial, and foreign judges and lawyers; Bishops and clergy of the Church of England—including the Bishops of St. Albans, Birmingham, and Ely, and the Revs. W. F. Baily, H. Gresford Jones, Canon H. Lewis, W. I. Carr Smith, J. E. Watts-Ditchfield, and H. Williams—representatives of others churches, theological experts, medical and lunacy experts, prison officials, and others.

Commissioners Divided.—Soon after the Commission opened it became clear that the Commissioners were by no means of one mind in regard to the question, and as the proceedings went on the divergence was more marked. It was no surprise, therefore, to find, when the result of their labours was officially made known, that there were two Reports, one signed by a Majority and the other by a Minority of the Commissioners, the latter being by far the more cogent and powerful of the two. The Majority Report was signed by Lord Gorell (Chairman of the Commission), Lady Frances Balfour, the Right Hon. Thomas Burt, Lord Guthrie, Sir Frederick Treves, Judge H. Tindal Atkinson, Mrs. Tennant, Mr. Edgar Brierley, and Mr. J. A. Spender. The Minority Report was signed by the Archbishop of York, Sir W. R. Anson, M.P., and Sir Lewis T. Dibdin, Dean of the Arches.

Points of Agreement.—On some points, however, the Commissioners are unanimous.

They agree, for instance, that there should be further facilities for divorce proceedings by the establishment of local courts, although the Minority Report is not favourable to so wide an extension as the Majority Report.

They agree (in the main) on certain alterations in the procedure and practice under the Summary Jurisdiction Act.

They agree also that a party should be entitled to obtain, and the Court have jurisdiction to pronounce, a decree of nullity in the following cases: (a) Where the other party at the time of marriage is of unsound mind, or subject to epilepsy, or suffering from venereal disease; (b) where a woman is pregnant due to intercourse with some man other than her husband; and (c) where there is wilful refusal to consummate the marriage.

They agree, again, that a party to a marriage should be entitled to apply to the Court for an order of presumption of death, with right of re-marriage, where (a) the other party has been continuously absent and unheard of for seven years, or (b) a party to a marriage satisfies the Court that there is reasonable ground for declaring the other party to be dead.

They agree—and this is most important—that whatever grounds are permitted to a husband for obtaining a divorce from his wife, the same grounds should be available for a wife in a suit against her husband.

Finally, they agree that severe restrictions should be placed on the publication of divorce reports.

The Real Disagreement comes over the proposal to extend the grounds of divorce. The Majority Report recommends: That the law should be amended so as to permit of divorces being obtained on the following grounds:—

1. Adultery.
2. Desertion for three years and upwards.
3. Cruelty.
4. Incurable insanity after five years' confinement.
5. Habitual drunkenness found incurable after three years from first order of separation.

6. Imprisonment under commuted death sentence.

To these proposals the Minority Report offer a strenuous and uncompromising resistance. To this Minority Report we now direct attention.

THE MINORITY RE O .

The Minority Report opens with an interesting review of Marriage and the Marriage Contract. Inter alia it states that 61 per cent. of marriages in England are solemnised in Church, and that purely civil marriages amount to about 20.5 per cent. annually. In regard to the Divorce Act of 1857 the Commissioners express no opinion whether such legislation was wise or unwise, but they are clear that the appeal of the Act, even if desirable, is not practicable.

What is for the Public Good? They then discuss the question, What is for the public good in England with regard to divorce? Is it in the true interests of the nation that the present law under which marriage once validly contracted is, except for adultery, indissoluble should be abandoned?

Lessons of Experience.—Asking what is the experience of other countries, the Reports point out that "it cannot be denied that during the last half-century there has been almost throughout the civilised world an enlargement of the law of divorce, and a multiplication of the grounds for dissolution of marriage. Most European countries, the great colonial dependencies in Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa, and the United States of America have to a greater or less extent provided legal facilities for dissolving marriage on the grounds which have commended themselves to the majority of our colleagues, viz., desertion, cruelty, insanity, drunkenness, and conviction for crime. The result has been so marked an increase in the number of divorces as to cause, at any rate in some countries, grave apprehension and alarm." "The general position . . . in the United States," it is pointed out, "is that for many years past there has been in operation a system not very unlike—so far as grounds of divorce are concerned—that which the Report of the Majority would impose on England, that experience of its working has produced a marked and growing desire for restriction and limitation, but that to give practical effect to this desire is found exceedingly hard in the face of the laxity to which the nation has become used." The closing passage of this section is of great importance: "In view of the extension of grounds of divorce in most parts of the world, it is significant that no witness has been able to tell us of a country where, as the result of greater facilities for the dissolution of marriage, public morality had been promoted, the ties of family, of husband and wife, of parents and children, have been strengthened and home life has been made purer and more settled. The experience of other countries, and especially of America, certainly does not encourage the hope that the public good of this nation will be promoted by the enactment of extended grounds of divorce."

The Case for Extension Fails.—The conclusions the Minority Report draws from the evidence upon the demand for the extension of the grounds of divorce is most striking: "The evidence, so far from showing any great or general demand on the part of the poorer classes for divorce on other grounds besides that of misconduct, very clearly proves the absence of any such demand. Most of the witnesses actually in contact with the poor, with practical knowledge of their affairs, are emphatic upon this point. Stipendiary police magistrates at Leeds, Hull, South Staffordshire, and Grimsby deny any real demand, and, more significant still, those, e.g. the magistrates at East Ham, Tower Bridge, Bow Street, and Birmingham, who are personally in favour of some extension of the divorce law, do not assert that the people desire it. Police-court missionaries from a great number of centres in London and the Provinces almost without exception testified either that there was no demand, or that it was of very limited extent. Mr. Parr, the Director of the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, although in favour of enlargement of the grounds of divorce, admitted that even in his great experience he did not meet with a large number of applications for divorce. Mr. Silcock, the Chairman of the Council of Associated Societies for the Protection of Children, stated that there was no demand. Mrs. Evelyn Hubbard and Mrs. Steinthal, representing the 'Mothers' Union,' produced a remarkable body of evidence. The Mothers' Union consists of 278,500 wives and mothers almost entirely of the working classes in England and Wales. The number of members, including those in Scotland, Ireland, and the Colonies, is much larger. Any general demand by the poor for wider powers of divorce could not but be known to the members of such an organisation, and considering the vast dimensions of the Union, the demand, if it existed, might reasonably be expected to make itself unmistakably audible. But, on the contrary, a number of meetings of branches of the Union have been held in different places at which resolutions hostile to any extension of the grounds of divorce have been passed unanimously or by great majorities. An aggregate of 85,491 votes of working mothers have been recorded. Reports from officials of the Union and of others working amongst the very poor were asked for, in answer to the question whether, if divorce were granted in cases of desertion, permanent lunacy, and long sentences of penal servitude, it would tend to lessen the sense of the binding character of the marriage tie amongst the poor. The great majority of those applied to replied in the affirmative, a few in the negative, and some considered that respect for the marriage tie scarcely existed amongst the very lowest class, and therefore could not be lessened. The Church of England Men's Society, numbering 100,000, members, 70 per cent. of whom are working men, sent up petitions signed by more than 15,000 men protesting against an extension of grounds of divorce, and an even greater number desired the repeal of the Divorce Act of 1857. The evidence of clergymen of large working-class parishes is scanty, but, such as it is, it confirms that of the other witnesses." The Report examines the evidence which tells in an opposite direction, and comes to the conclusion that "regarded as a whole it supports a view of the marriage contract and its dissolution which we believe would be generally rejected." As to separation orders, the present system, while in need of considerable amendment, "probably fulfils its purpose fairly well," and the Minority Commissioners find it "impossible, after listening to the evidence, to regard the existence and multiplication of separation or maintenance orders as indicating any widespread popular demand for multiplied causes of divorce." Finally, "we feel bound to record our opinion that, apart from such changes as may bring within the reach of all the remedies which the law provides for all, there is no effective demand that divorce should be made easier."

The Majority Report Condemned.—The Minority Commissioners next examine in detail the proposals for extension of the grounds of divorce made by the Majority, and, summing up, say: "We have now dealt with the five new grounds for divorce which our colleagues recommend should be established. There is one distinctive mark on them all. They are purely empirical in the sense that they are tentative, experimental, dependent upon qualification and degree. Desertion for three years is chosen, but we are told that if the well-to-do only were concerned four years would have been recommended. Under pressure of sufficient hard cases it might equally easily become two. Insanity is to be a cause, not only under conditions of time, but also of the age of the parties. Imprisonment under a commuted death sentence for, say, twenty years is to suffice, but not penal servitude for ten or fifteen years. Cruelty is to be a cause, but it needs to be defined, and is defined in a set of words which may mean anything from gross personal violence to the continuous exercise of a sharp tongue or the habitual indulgence in a surly temper. Inebriety is to be a cause, but the proposed definition of it leaves much to the discretion of the Court and is admitted to be open to criticism. Some witnesses are in favour of drunkenness being a ground of divorce, but against penal servitude being so, and vice versa. It is obvious that proposals like these have not even the semblance of finality. They are frankly opportunist, designed to meet what are supposed to be the practical needs of the moment, and capable of expansion in any direction under the pressure for further facilities, which concession is almost certain to produce. They must be judged not only by their immediate and intended results, but by their inevitable sequel. If the State is to maintain any clear attitude as to divorce, it must take its stand upon some guiding principle. There is one principle, and, so far as witnesses, many of whom seek to deal with the question, have been able to help us, only one, which seems to include the various proposed extensions of the grounds of divorce. Each one of these is said to predicate a state of circumstances which proves that the purposes for which the marriage contract was entered into have been defeated, with the consequence that the combined life which it was the purpose of that contract to establish is in fact, and finally, determined. We suppose that this is what is meant by our colleagues when they recommend that divorce should be permitted for causes which 'are generally and properly recognised as leading to the break-up of married life,' or, as they elsewhere describe it, the 'de facto termination of married life.' What is to be regarded as 'breaking up' married life? Is it separation? The separated parties may come together. Is it drunkenness? The drunkard may reform. Is it penal servitude? The prisoner may return better and chastended by punishment. Is it physical disability? Then permanent paralysis of the body may frustrate the objects of marriage as fully as paralysis of the brain. Moreover, if we accept this principle it must carry us much further than is now proposed. The conditions of the marriage contract are not only that the parties will live together and cohabit without exposing each other to bodily suffering. They promise to love one another, to take one another 'for better for worse, for richer for poorer, in sickness and in health' during their joint lives; and these promises are as much of the essence of the matter as any of the other obligations of the marriage state."

A Downward Incline.—In concluding this section of their Report the Minority Commissioners say: "We submit that the proposals of the Majority Report cannot be viewed apart from the principle upon which they are founded, and the consequences which logically follow, and have in fact followed, upon its adoption. Those proposals, if carried out by legislation, would lead the nation to a downward incline on which it would be vain to expect to be able to stop half-way. It is idle to imagine that in a matter where great forces of human passion must always be pressing with all their might against whatever barriers are set up, those barriers can be permanently maintained in a position arbitrarily chosen, with no better reason to support them than the supposed condition of public opinion at the moment of their erection. But if the principle which lies behind the proposals of the Majority Report be once admitted, with all that it necessarily implies, the result would be practically to abrogate the principle of monogamous lifelong union. Would the adoption of our colleagues' proposals, with the consequences which, however undesired, must follow, be for the general welfare of the people of this country? That is the question we have to answer. We believe the preponderating voice of history and experience would answer in the negative, and that in giving that answer it would be supported by the verdict of the best and wisest of those in every age who have striven to promote the moral advancement and the happiness of the human race."

Some Societies and their Work

Additional Bishoprics Committee.—Formerly Additional Home Bishoprics' Endowment Fund.— The new name was adopted in 1910 for greater simplicity. The immediate work of the Committee is to convince public opinion that the sub-division of unwieldy dioceses is essential to the pastoral efficiency and spiritual welfare of the Church, and the ultimate work of the Committee is to bring about that division by the endowment of new dioceses. For both these purposes money is urgently needed. Chairman, the Earl of Shaftesbury; Treasurers, Sir John H. Kennaway, Bt., and Mr. W. S. de Winton; Organising Secretary, Rev. E. H. Firth, Houghton Rectory, Stockbridge, Hants (to whom all communications may be addressed).

Financial assistance has been given to S.P.G., C.C.C.S., Navvy Mission, &c. Secretary, Rev. Canon Beal, Church House, Westminster, S.W.

Boys and girls (of whom there are always about 200 in the schools) are received between the ages of seven and twelve years and retained until fifteen. While there are many excellent charities for the benefit of the lower classes, there are comparatively few for the class for which this Institution caters, viz. those who have once enjoyed the blessings of prosperity. The charity is unendowed and dependent upon voluntary support. Secretary, C. T. Hoskins, 27 Clement's Lane, London, E.C.

In many country and colliery districts the Brigade Girls, working under Medical supervision, are fulfilling all the duties hitherto performed by a paid Parish Nurse, while the knowledge of "Home Nursing," "Hygiene" and "First Aid" is invaluable knowledge for every Girl to acquire, making them more useful at home as well as elsewhere (2) A Young Women's Volunteer Ambulance Corps, available for Public Service either in Peace or War. LIST OF ARCHBISHOPS, BISHOPS, AND CLERGY

IN THE

UNITED KINGDOM, COLONIES AND FOREIGN PARTS.

Note.—A list of the principal abbreviations used in this Directory will be found in the earlier part of the volume. It is hoped, however, that the meaning of the abbreviations, &c , in the following lists is fairly obvious. In the case of the clergy, where the address is not sufficiently signified in the title of the Cure, it is given immediately after the name. Where no postal address is given, the title of the Cure is sufficient address. The figures at the end of the line in the List of Clergy represent (a) net value of living, and (b) population. The asterisk denotes a house of residence.
